

Social Platform is carrying out a survey among its members and members' national members to gather relevant information on the different forms of provision of SSGI in the 27 member states.

This survey is useful to identify specific problems and concrete cases and examples at grass-root level which can provide evidence of the trends detected, as well as examples of national legislation that could serve as good practice. The results will be discussed in the next SGI WG meeting on November 22.

CEDAG members can download and fill in the questionnaire with information on national contexts and send it to the secretariat by 5th November.